Manchester State Park is a forested camping park nestled in woods of fir and maple; the park sits along the shore of Rich Passage in Puget Sound. Bainbridge Island and Seattle are visible from the beach.

The 111-acre camping park features 2 miles of trails and 3,400 feet of saltwater shoreline. The park offers a variety of recreational activities: kayaking, boating, swimming, scuba diving, volleyball and horseshoes (bring your own sporting equipment).

Overnight accommodations

The park offers several options for overnight stays. There are 35 standard campsites, 15 partial hookup sites that accommodate RVs up to 60 feet long and three first-come, first-served hiker/biker campsites.

There also is a group camp that accommodates up to 130 guests. It features 12 partial RV hookups, a covered shelter with eight picnic tables and electricity, a large fire circle, five small fire circles, horseshoe pit and several unsheltered picnic tables and braziers. There are two ADA accessible unisex restrooms with showers.
